

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

Ira Fancher and Wm. Turner, you heirs and assigns:

Ira Fancher and Wm. Turner are hereby notified that the undersigned has expended in labor and improvements on the Hill Top lode mining claim, situated in the Goldfield mining district, Nye county, Nevada, the sum of $100, the sum for the years 1909, 1910, 1911, of which you Ira Fancher, are a half owner, and you, Wm. Turner, are a one-fourth owner. Under the provisions of section 2324, of the Revised Statutes of the United States of America, covering annual assessment labor on mining claims; the proof of labor of the said claim was duly recorded at the recorder's office, at Goldfield, Esmeralda county, State of Nevada. Said expenditure was the amount necessary to hold said mining claim during the aforesaid years and if within 90 days from the date of the first publication of this notice, you fail or refuse to contribute your proportion of said expenditure as co-owner, which amounts to $225 to you together with the cost of this advertisement, your interest in the said claims will become the property of the subscriber, your co-owner, who has made the expenditure and improvements above mentioned.

HUGH SUTHERLAND,
District Judge for Above Entitled Court.
Dated at Tonopah, Nevada, this 25th day of January, 1912.
Last publication April 26th, 1912.

AN ECHO OF THE ROSEBUD BOOM

The Bank of Tonopah has commenced suit in the district court of Humboldt county against the Brown Palace Mining company and the Big Six Nevada Mining company for $25,516, alleged to be due the bank as the principal and interest on three promissory notes, and for the further sum of $4500 attorney's fees.

One of the notes is for the sum of $13,500, dated January 3, 1910, and is executed by the Brown Palace Mining company, by Malcolm L. Macdonald, president, and James H. Monteath, secretary. The other two notes are for $5000 and $2500, respectively, being signed by the Big Six Nevada Mining company, and the same officers.

The bank also sues the Brown Palace company for $2700 and the Big Six company for $2325, the amount of accounts assigned to the plaintiff by James H. Monteath for services performed by him for the defendant companies.

The Brown Palace is the property which was sold by Phil Blaine of Winnemucca, to Malcolm Macdonald and associates of Tonopah about five years ago. The property is located in the Rosebud district and created a great deal of excitement on account of the extremely rich showing on the surface. It was on the strength of this showing that the property was sold, but the values did not go down, which fact was determined by a small amount of work. The sum the property was sold for is said to have been from $150,000 to $200,000.

Soon after the ore pinched out work was discontinued by the company, since which time a little work has been done by leasers, with little or no success. Some time ago part of the property was jumped, it being alleged that the assessment work had not been done, but it is understood that a compromise was later effected and the company's title cleared. Some of the stock is held by residents of Winnemucca.

Up to the present time no answer has been filed to the complaint of the Tonopah bank—Silver State.

TONOPAH AND GOLDFIELD
RAILROAD COMPANY

At the Nevada Theater on Monday Evening, March 11th

Scene from the "White Sister."

Now and then, by the way of breaking the monotony of musical comedy offerings, our theater-goers are called upon to patronize something of a more substantial character and whenever such an occasion arises it can be safely counted upon that the play of real merit and one of genuine purport need not fail to receive proper recognition. "The White Sister," which will be presented at the Nevada theater next

Monday night, is a dramatic treat that will appeal to the friends of the higher order of theatrical offerings and will serve to introduce a truly great actress in Miss Jeanne Fowler, who will appear in the title role. The production as well as the cast of "The White Sister" will in every way uphold the reputation made for it by Viola Allen, who achieved her greatest success in this play.

MURDER AND SUICIDE OCCURS
IN GOLDFIELD

A murder and suicide occurred at the Combination yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. As the shift was going off work a stranger appeared and ordered one of the workmen to throw up his hands. The man refused or hesitated and the stranger fired at him, the bullet striking in the upper part of the body. Without waiting or offering any explanation to the crowd of men who advanced toward him in a threatening manner, the stranger completed the job by shooting himself. Both men fell and both are supposed to be mortally wounded.

The man who did the shooting is dead. P. H. Lavelle, of 104 Ridge street, was the victim.—The assailant was Fred Burnham. He is from Montana and is an old partner of Lavelle. The trouble arose from an old-time feud over mining claims.

Later developments disclose the facts to be entirely in favor of Lavelle. The latter was coming off shift and had proceeded 300 yards from the shaft toward town when he was confronted by Fred Burnham, a former partner from Butte, Mont., who has been in Goldfield for about two weeks. No one knows what happened. Both men were on the trail. Burnham accosted Lavelle by ordering him to throw up his hands. Lavelle began running to escape. Then Burnham fired and Lavelle fell. After that Burnham walked up and fired two more shots into the prostrate body. Then he looked at him and, concluding that his victim was dead, turned the gun on himself and shot himself through the body, a little to right of the heart, dropping dead in his tracks.

The first ball went through the spine, the second through his chest and the third, fired when he was on the ground, entered the bowels. Lavelle is completely paralyzed and with but one chance in a hundred to recover.

Burnham was found dead, with blood gushing from his mouth and the wound in his chest. His gun was found at his side. It was a .38-caliber Colt.

Lavelle was a peaceable man and well liked. He had the confidence

CONCENTRATING
WEDEKIND ORE

EDWIN ARKELL WELL PLEASED WITH RESULTS OF SOME RECENT EXPERIMENTS.

RENO, Nev., March 9.—Edwin Arkell, president and general manager of the Nevada United Mines company of Wedekind, is greatly pleased with the result of his experiments to secure concentration of the tale ore which has hitherto been considered of too low grade to ship.

He has installed a system of sluice and is dumping the tale ore in the boxes.

It disintegrates easily and the galena cubes, with which it is impregnated and which carry the values, are easily caught on the riffles. The material which passes away from the sluice boxes carries practically no values. The concentration is between five and ten to one.

The water used in thus separating the bonanza from the borrasca is obtained from the mine.
